this volume addresses two key questions 1 how can ephemera be understood as a critical category of literary and historical inquiry and 2 how can ephemera serve pedagogical purposes in the classroom each of the essays in encountering ephemera 1550 1800 scholarship performance classroom addresses these questions by exploring a diverse range of materials as well as periods the essays collectively work to define ephemera as a complex and multi faceted critical category in terms of its literary cultural and historical significance each contributor works to complicate the traditional binary opposition between the ephemeral transitory and the canonical enduring in part by recognizing how attending to the material processes of textual production transmission and dissemination highlights the potential instability and mutability of texts and textual relationships whether discussing broadside ballads or coterie poetry by shifting the focus to the processes by which texts are constructed and construed the prospect of recognizing any text regardless of its canonical status as a static and fixed entity becomes difficult and in turn the ephemeral qualities that define and constitute the text's materiality come more sharply into focus along these lines the ephemeral spaces across and between discourses what might be called the ephemera of cultural poetics play a key role in shaping literary texts thus early modern and eighteenth century ephemera constitute both the material texts not intended to last or designed for limited cultural life and the process fleeting and transitory aspects of cultural production whether discussing the circulation of cheap print the performative traces of music and gesture in shakespeare's plays or the diffuse cultural influences that both surround and pervade literary texts attending to ephemeral matters underscores the dynamic unfixedness of early modern and eighteenth century cultural practices
